MKBarrel Trading FZCO is committed to:

1. Fulfil legal and other requirements.
2. Eliminate hazards and reduce OH&S risks.
3. Continuous improvement.
4. Consulting and involving all employees.

Our commitment to OH&S

1. Fulfil legal and other requirements

We believe that to effectively protect the health and safety of all people involved in, or affected by, our activities, we need to fully implement all applicable OH&S legislation in addition to other determined requirements. The other requirements include those of interested parties, our employees, national and international standards, contract requirements, business codes, and technical memos and practice notes produced by government agencies and professional institutions.

2. Eliminate hazards and reduce OH&S risks

For us to achieve a safe workplace and protect us from hazards we believe that it is everyone's responsibility to be proactive in identifying, reporting, and eliminating identified hazards before they lead to injuries, illnesses, incidents, or other OH&S related occurrences.

3. Continuous improvement

Success comes from continually improving every aspect of our business. We believe that a systematic approach to managing continuous improvement initiatives leads to improved performance, enhanced organizational abilities, and a reduction in OH&S risks.

4. Consulting and involving employees

We believe that everyone's input is considered vital to the development of our OH&S policies and procedures. To accomplish this, we actively encourage two-way communication on OH&S between non-managerial and managerial teams at all levels and functions within MBarrel.
